

Name:	Dr. ANIL KAMATH (Surgical Oncologist)
Gender:	Male
Qualification:	MBBS, MS(St John's Medical College, Bangalore), MCh (Tata Memorial Hospital, Mumbai), DNB(Surgical Oncology)
Specialty:	Oncology
Hospital Name:	Apollo hospitals, Bannerghatta road, Bangalore.

Experience:

-MCh from Tata Memorial Hospital, Mumbai , one of India's leading cancer institute's, trained to perform all types of cancer surgeries

-Post Doctoral fellowships in head and neck oncology and GI oncology from Tata memorial Hospital in Mumbai

-UICC(Union international against Cancer) fellowship on management of peritoneal surface malignancies at Washington Cancer Centre, Washington DC, USA

Achievements:

-Awarded the UICC – ICRETT fellowship to learn management of peritoneal surface malignancies in 2007 under Dr Paul Sugarbaker

-Stood first in the All India Superspeciality entrance test Mumbai in 2003

-Best outgoing student for literary activities , Mysore Medical College 2000

Publications:

1. Book Chapter: Pancreaticoduodenectomy: Technical Considerations Kamath A, Kanitkar G, and Shrikhande S. Book: Surgery of Pancreatic Tumors' by Dr S. Shrikhande, Friess Helmut, and Buchler Markus. BI Publications, 2008.
2. Book Chapter: Intestinal Stomas, Shrikhande S, Kamath A, Nagarajan G, Sewkani A- Association of Colorectal Surgeons of India
3. Pseudoaneurysm of facial artery, Kamath A, GaneshN, Deshpande M, Kulkarni A, Kulkarni S, DCruz A, Arch Otolaryngology Head Neck Surg. 2008;134(4):443
4. Carcinoma Penis – How late can inguinal metastases occur? Kamath A, Yuvaraja TB, Tongaonkar HB, Kane S Indian Journal of Urology 2007 23(3):321-322

Professional Membership:

- 1.Union international against Cancer , Geneva, Switzerland
- 2.Indian Medical Association, Diploma National Board
- 3.Karnataka Medical Association